All relevant rules, regulations, statutes, ordinances, and illustrative case law creating a specific legal duty relied upon by plaintiff shall be listed under a separate heading. In negligence cases, each and every act of negligence relied upon shall be separately listed. For each item of damage claimed, plaintiff shall separately provide the following information: (a) a brief description of the item claimed, for example, pain and suffering; (b) the dollar amount claimed; and (c) a citation to the law, rule, regulation, or any decision authorizing a recovery for that particular item of damage. Items of damage not identified in this manner shall not be recoverable.

No further evidence will be required as to the facts contained in the stipulation and the stipulation may be read into evidence at the beginning of the trial or at such other time as is appropriate in the trial of the case. It is the duty of counsel to cooperate fully with each other to identify all undisputed facts. A refusal to do so may result in the imposition of sanctions upon the non-cooperating counsel.

- (2) Whether Plaintiff is entitled to recover attorneys’ fees and/or costs.

3. Whether Plaintiff mitigated her alleged damages.

Attached hereto as Attachment “F-1” for the plaintiff, Attachment “F-2” for the defendant, and Attachment “F-3”, etc. for all other parties is a list of all the witnesses and their addresses for each party. The list must designate the witnesses whom the party will have present at trial and those witnesses whom the party may have present at trial. Expert (any witness who might express an opinion under Rule 702), impeachment and rebuttal witnesses whose use as a witness can be reasonably anticipated must be included. Each party shall also attach to the list a reasonable specific summary of the expected testimony of each expert witness.

All of the other parties may rely upon a representation by a designated party that a witness will be present unless notice to the contrary is given ten (10) days prior to trial to allow the other party(s) to subpoena the witness or to obtain the witness’ testimony by other means. Witnesses who are not included on the witness list (including expert, impeachment and rebuttal witnesses whose use should have been reasonably anticipated) will not be permitted to testify, unless expressly authorized by court order based upon a showing that the failure to comply was justified.

Attached hereto as Attachment “G-1” for the plaintiff, “G-2” for the defendants, and “G-3”, etc. for all other parties are the typed lists of all documentary and physical evidence that will be tendered at trial. Learned treatises which are expected to be used at trial shall not be admitted as exhibits. Counsel are required, however, to identify all such treatises under a separate heading on the party’s exhibit list.

Each party’s exhibits shall be numbered serially, beginning with 1, and without the inclusion of any alphabetical or numerical subparts. Adequate space must be left on the left margin of each party’s exhibit list for court stamping purposes. A courtesy copy of each party’s list must be submitted for use by the judge.

Prior to trial, counsel shall mark the exhibits as numbered on the attached lists by affixing numbered yellow stickers to plaintiff’s exhibits, numbered blue stickers to defendant's exhibits, and numbered white stickers to joint exhibits. When there are multiple plaintiffs or defendants, the surname of the particular plaintiff or defendant shall be shown above the number on the stickers for that party's exhibits.

Specific objections to another party's exhibits must be typed on a separate page and must be attached to the exhibit list of the party against whom the objections are raised. Objections as to authenticity, privilege, competency, and, to the extent possible, relevancy of the exhibits shall be included. Any listed document to which an objection is not raised shall be deemed to have been stipulated as to authenticity by the parties and shall be admitted at trial without further proof of authenticity.

Unless otherwise noted, copies rather than originals of documentary evidence may be used at trial. Documentary or physical exhibits may not be submitted by counsel after filing of the pretrial order, except upon consent of all the parties or permission of the court. Exhibits so admitted must be numbered, inspected by counsel, and marked with stickers prior to trial.

Counsel shall familiarize themselves with all exhibits (and the numbering thereof) prior to trial. Counsel will not be afforded time during trial to examine exhibits that are or should have been listed.

Objections to the exhibits are attached to the exhibit list of the party or parties against whom the objections are raised.

The following designated portions of the testimony of the persons listed below may be introduced by deposition:

Plaintiff designates the following depositions to be introduced at Trial:

1. Jefferson Southern Corporation's 30(b)(6);
2. Ray Wright;
3. Sheri Price;
4. Deanna Hall;

Any objections to the depositions of the foregoing persons or to any questions or answers in the depositions shall be filed in writing no later than the day the case is first scheduled for trial. Objections not perfected in this manner will be deemed waived or abandoned. All depositions shall be reviewed by counsel and all extraneous and unnecessary matter, including non-essential colloquy of counsel, shall be deleted. Depositions, whether preserved by stenographic means or videotape, shall not go out with the jury.

Attached hereto as Attachments “H-1” for the plaintiff, “H-2” for the defendant, and “H-3”, etc. for other parties, are any trial briefs which counsel may wish to file containing citations to legal authority concerning evidentiary questions and any other legal issues which counsel anticipate will arise during the trial of the case. Limitations, if any, regarding the format and length of trial briefs is a matter of individual practice which shall be established by each judge.

The parties may file trial briefs according to the preferences of the Court at a later date.

In the event this is a case designated for trial to the court with a jury, requests for charge must be submitted no later than 9:30 a.m. on the date on which the case is calendared (or specially set) for trial. Requests which are not timely filed and which are not otherwise in compliance with LR 51.1, NDGa will not be considered. In addition, each party should attach to the requests to charge a short (not more than one (1) page) statement of that party’s contentions, covering both claims and defenses, which the court may use in its charge to the jury.

Counsel are directed to refer to the latest edition of the Eleventh Circuit District Judges Association’s Pattern Jury Instructions and Devitt and Blackmar’s Federal Jury Practice and Instructions in preparing the requests to charge. For those issues not covered by the Pattern Instructions or Devitt and Blackmar, counsel are directed to extract the applicable legal principle (with minimum verbiage) from each cited authority.

The parties will submit their respective requests for charge as directed by the Court.

If counsel desire for the case to be submitted to the jury in a manner other than upon a general verdict, the form of submission agreed to by all counsel shall be shown in Attachment “I” to this Pretrial Order. If counsel cannot agree on a special form of submission, parties will propose their separate forms for the consideration of the court.

Plaintiff’s proposed verdict form is attached as Exhibit I-1.

Defendants’ proposed verdict form is attached as Exhibit I-2.

24.

Unless otherwise authorized by the court, arguments in all jury cases shall be limited to one-half hour for each side. Should any party desire any additional time for argument, the request should be noted (and explained) herein.

If the case is designated for trial to the court without a jury, counsel are directed to submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law not later than the opening of trial.

Not applicable.

Pursuant to LR 16.3, lead counsel and persons possessing settlement authority to bind the parties met on multiple occasions prior to the close of discovery, to discuss in good faith the possibility of settlement of this case. The court (____) has or (X) has not discussed settlement of this case with counsel. It appears at this time that there is:

- (____) A good possibility of settlement.
- (X) Some possibility of settlement.
- (____) Little possibility of settlement.
- (____) No possibility of settlement.

27.

Unless otherwise noted, the court will not consider this case for a special setting, and it will be scheduled by the clerk in accordance with the normal practice of the court.

Not necessary.

The plaintiff estimates that it will require 2-3 days to present its evidence. The defendant estimates that it will require 1-2 days to present its evidence. It is estimated that the total trial time is 3-5 days.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the above constitutes the pretrial order for the above captioned case (X) submitted by stipulation of the parties or (____) approved by the court after conference with the parties.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the foregoing, including the attachments thereto, constitutes the pretrial order in the above case and that it supersedes the pleadings which are hereby amended to conform hereto and that this pretrial order shall not be amended except by Order of the court to prevent manifest injustice. Any attempt to reserve a right to amend or add to any part of the pretrial order after the pretrial order has been filed shall be invalid and of no effect and shall not be binding upon any party or the court, unless specifically authorized in writing by the court.

IT IS SO ORDERED this ____ day of _____, 2017.

The Honorable Harold Murphy
United States District Judge

PLAINTIFFS' GENERAL VOIR DIRE QUESTIONS

The questions which Plaintiffs seek to directly propound to the jury panel are as follows:

1. Some people think that the law is not quite fair because it makes things too hard for the employer to fire people. Others think it's too easy to fire people. Which group are you closer to, even just a little bit?

2. Have you, or any member of your immediate family, ever been a Plaintiff or a Defendant in any lawsuit? If so, state whether you were a Plaintiff or Defendant, and describe the lawsuit. Were you satisfied with the way your lawsuit was handled and resolved?
3. Have you previously served on a jury in either state or federal court? If so, please tell us the type of case, and whether the jury reached a verdict.
4. If you have previously served on a jury, were you satisfied with your jury service?
5. Some people believe there are too many frivolous lawsuits, with people trying to get rich off of a corporation. Others believe that lawsuits and courts are necessary because it's the only place where an individual can stand up to powerful corporations. Which view are you a little closer to? Why?
6. Following up on the same topic: Many folks are concerned with what they call "tort reform": too many lawsuits, big verdicts, runaway juries, greedy lawyers all driving up prices and driving away jobs. As a result, some folks think that the court system needs changes. Others think things are okay as they are. Which view are you a little closer to? Tell me about it.

7. Does any member of the panel believe that the civil justice system should be changed to limit the ability of employees to bring claims against their employers?
8. Does any member of the panel belong to any organization which favors changing the law in order to limit a victim's rights to recover?
9. Is there any member of the panel who would start this trial with even the slightest negative feelings about Plaintiffs and their case, for any reason at all?
10. This is a case in which money damages are sought as compensation for retaliation. Do you have any disagreement whatsoever with our system of justice which provides that disputes such as this should be brought before a jury of people such as yourself for resolution?

11. Some people feel that a Plaintiff should not come to court asking a jury to compensate them for the damages they allege to have suffered. Others feel that it is appropriate. Are you closer, even a little bit, to the group that feels that a Plaintiff should not come to court asking a jury to award an amount of money for damages?
12. Some people have trouble allowing money in their verdicts for things like emotional distress or mental anguish. Others are okay with it. Which are you a little closer to? Why?
13. Some people have some philosophical, moral or other reasons for not allowing money for pain or suffering. Others are okay with it. Which are you closer to?
14. Some people have trouble allowing money for pain because money does not make pain go away. Others are okay with it. Which are you a little closer to?
15. Some people feel that an out of work person will exaggerate their pain to get more money from a jury. Others don't think so. Which are you closer to?

16. Who here knows anyone who's ever been accused of exaggerating their pain when they were really telling the truth? Tell us about it.
17. Plaintiffs are seeking damages in a significant amount. If you believe from the evidence presented and the law as given you in the charges by the Court that Plaintiffs are entitled to recover such amount, please raise your hand if you would have any hesitation whatsoever about awarding a significant amount of damages.
18. How do you feel about whether there should be upper or lower limits on the amount of money jurors should be allowed to give?
19. At the end of this trial, if you think it will take just $50 to make up for what happened here – but if you know that the Plaintiff wants much more than $50 – what trouble would you have ignoring what the Plaintiff wants and deciding on a verdict of only fifty dollars, if that's what you think is fair, in spite of feeling sorry for the Plaintiff?
20. Now here's the other side of that question. If you decide it will take, say millions of dollars to make up for what happened to the Plaintiff, what trouble would you have – even a little – in deciding on a verdict like that if you thought it was fair, in spite of feeling sorry for the defendants, who'll want it to be much less?

21. Responsibility means paying enough money compensation to fully equally the losses and level of harm – without putting anything into the scale except those losses and harms. That's the law. Who here thinks they might have trouble, even a little, keeping things off the scale that don't belong here?
22. Has anyone here ever lost of job after complaining about something they believed was wrong? Tell us about it. How long did it take after the complaint? Were you treated differently after the complaint?
23. How many of you have ever filed a charge of discrimination against any employer with any state or federal agency like the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, or with any court?
24. How many of you have ever wanted to but did not file a charge of discrimination against any employer with any state or federal agency like the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, or with any court?

25. Have you, any relative or close personal friend ever been accused of committing acts of discrimination in the work place?
26. If your answer to the previous question is yes, did you feel the person that made the accusation was justified?
27. Would this past experience influence you to see this case more from one party's side than the other?
28. Is there any juror who has ever decided to obey an employer's request – even if you thought it was wrong – because you were afraid your employer would retaliate against you?
29. Does any juror own his or her own business, or have you owned your own business in the past?
30. Is there anyone here who has ever worked in human resources?
31. What news stations do you watch on TV, if any?
32. Do you listen to any talk radio shows? Which shows do you listen to?
33. Do you get news from the Internet? Which websites do you visit most often for the news?

34. What is the last school or learning institution you attended?
35. In trials like these, jurors make decisions on the basis of whether my side is more likely right than wrong. Some people think “more likely right than wrong” is not a fair standard because it makes things a little too easy on my side and a little too hard on the defense. Some people think they need to be certain or sure, and they aren’t comfortable finding in favor of the plaintiff if they think she is only ‘probably’ right. Some think they would need to be 70, 80, 90% sure. Others think this is ok. Are you a little closer to those people who think this is a little unfair or too easy for my side?
36. At the end of the trial, the Judge will explain that you are required to decide what amount of money is appropriate based on whether the evidence shows my clients’ damages claims are “more likely right than wrong”. You can have doubts on both sides, but when you weight them all, if you think we’re more likely right than wrong, you have to award damages accordingly. What trouble would you have, even a little, making our decisions on the basis of whether we're more likely right than wrong, not total proof?

37. Given the type of person that you are, what is there about you that might help you, even a little bit, to be a juror on this kind of case, other than your ability to be fair and impartial?
38. Given the type of person that you are, what is there about you that might hurt you – even a little bit – to be a juror on this kind of case?
39. As jurors, you have certain rights. For instance, you have the right to hear all the evidence in order to make a correct decision. If you cannot hear any of the evidence, would any of you have a problem raising your hand and asking the judge, “Your Honor, I did not hear what that witness said. Could you ask him to repeat it?”
40. You also have the right to know and make sure that each of your other jurors knows and is following the law. So, if during deliberations, anyone is refusing to follow the law, will you all be comfortable asking your foreperson to knock on the door and tell the bailiff you need the judge to come talk to a juror who won't follow the law?

41. Finally, can we count on you yourself to say strictly within the law when you're making your decisions so we won't get into that situation?

Plaintiff reserves the right to ask any questions identified in A or B-2 to this Pretrial Order to the extent that they are not asked by the Court or by Defendants. Plaintiff also reserves the right to ask reasonably related follow-up questions to any of the enumerated questions.

PLAINTIFF'S OUTLINE OF THE CASE

I. Factual Outline

Defendant Jefferson Southern (“JSC”) is Tier One automotive supplier; JSC is Japanese Company doing business in Rockmart, GA. JSC employs approximately 230 full-time employees and approximately 85 part-time employees. JSC hired Plaintiff in January of 2005 an associate in the Stamping Department of the manufacturing facility. Plaintiff was ultimately promoted to be a forklift driver in 2010. Plaintiff alleged that for years leading up to her termination Carlos Chavez, and other male co-workers, subjected Plaintiff to frequent harassment including name calling, sexually charged comments and even death threats from a co-worker known as Rico Reyes. Plaintiff reported a number of incidents, dating as far back as 2010, to the Corporation but was forced to work alongside these individuals for many years. Since 2013, Plaintiff has been treated by a medical professional for the stress and anxiety that her work environment has created for her.

Plaintiff's co-worker Carlos Chavez became Plaintiff's team leader sometime in 2014. In July 2015, while working on a Saturday, Plaintiff requested from Mr. Chavez that she be able to leave early from work that day. Mr. Chavez told Plaintiff that she could leave work early only if she slept with him and became his mistress. Plaintiff refused. Later that day, while Plaintiff was working at the computer terminal in the Stamping Department, Mr. Chavez walked up behind Plaintiff and grabbed her butt. Plaintiff immediately hit Chavez's hand away and verbally demanded that he stop. There were no HR personnel on site that day. The next work day, Plaintiff reported the incident to Human Resources but the Corporation failed to document her complaint or take any action. Two day later, Mr. Chavez himself lodged a complaint with Human Resources, targeting Plaintiff, complaining that Plaintiff had told him that she was going to "take him to the office." Plaintiff was summoned to the Human Resources office a questioned about the Chavez's accusation and further reiterated her complaints of harassment and mistreatment by Mr. Chavez. Following the meeting, as a result on an email sent from Human Resources employee Marcus Smith to Human Resources Manager Demetria Strozier, the Corporation determined that Plaintiff's complaint was a "clear complaint of sexual harassment" and subsequently opened an investigation into the matter.

During the Company's investigation a number of employees were interviewed. Some employees that were interviewed who were not even at work on the day of the incident and some of the employees were at work but did not witness anything. Nevertheless, the Company did interview one employee that was at work on the day of the incident, Peirre Hebert, and Mr. Hebert informed the HR Manager that he witnessed Mr. Chavez grab Plaintiff's butt. The Corporation admitted that Hebert corroborated Plaintiff's claims but nevertheless terminated Plaintiff's employment two days later.

DEFENDANTS' OUTLINE OF THE CASE

I. Defendant's Factual Summary

Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Jefferson Southern violated Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, 42 U.S.C. § 2000e, et seq., (“Title VII”) when it terminated her on July 30, 2015. Defendant denies Plaintiff's allegations.

Jefferson Southern is a Tier One automotive parts supplier in Rockmart, Georgia. Plaintiff was employed as a forklift driver in the Company's Stamping Department. The Stamping Department has Team Leaders who relay orders from Coordinators to production employees (like Plaintiff) and who assist production employees while performing similar work. Team Leaders cannot set work schedules for production employees, cannot make compensation decisions, and cannot issue discipline. Plaintiff's supervisor was Coordinator Zeferino Duque.

Ray Wright was the Company's Plant Manager, a position he had held since 2012. Demetria Strozier was the Company's Human Resources Manager, a position she had held since 2012. The Company maintains “no discrimination and harassment” policies, including providing alternative avenues for employees to report work-related complaints. Those policies are part of the Company’s Employee Handbook, a copy of which Plaintiff received most recently in 2012. Employees can also report complaints through an Ethics Hotline phone number or by going directly to the Human Resources office or by leaving a note in the complaint box outside the office. There are employees who work in the Human Resources office who can translate English to Spanish. Plaintiff knew that Human Resources was where she could report any problems.

On July 22, 2015, Plaintiff was called to the Human Resources office by HR employee Marcus Smith following a complaint made about her by co-worker Carlos Chavez. Chavez complained that Plaintiff made an inappropriate comment about him in the breakroom. Plaintiff had suggested that Chavez would not ask a male co-worker to perform a specific job function because of the relationship the employee had with Chavez. After Smith began discussing Chavez’s complaint with her, Plaintiff for the first time stated that Chavez had touched her rear end on July 18 and had asked her to be his mistress. Following the meeting, Smith immediately notified Strozier who replied that the Company needed to investigate the harassment allegation. Prior to this date, Plaintiff had never complained to her supervisor, the Plant Manager or any current Human Resources employee about sexual harassment.

The Company conducted an investigation in which fourteen witnesses were interviewed, including Plaintiff and Chavez. Two witnesses reported to Strozier that they had heard Plaintiff threaten to have her husband beat up Duque. Other witnesses stated that Plaintiff argued whenever asked to perform various job duties. Plaintiff told Strozier that Chavez had sent improper text messages to her, but she never produced any messages. Plaintiff initially told Strozier that she did not have any witnesses to support her allegation, but approximately an hour after her interview she identified Pierre Hebert as a witness. Hebert stated that he had seen Chavez touch Plaintiff's rear end on July 18, although he had not previously reported it. When Strozier asked Hebert if he had talked to Plaintiff after her interview, he said no. This was untrue, as Plaintiff later admitted in her deposition that she had in fact spoken with Hebert after her interview.

After completing the interview, Strozier and Wright made the decision to terminate Plaintiff on July 30, 2015. The decision was based on 1) Plaintiff's threats against Duque that had been discovered during the investigation, 2) Plaintiff's pattern of arguing when asked to perform job duties, and 3) Strozier's belief that Plaintiff had made untrue statements about the harassment and during the investigation.

II. Relevant Law Regarding Legitimate, Non-Retaliatory Reason As A Defense To A Title VII Claim

See, e.g., McDonnell Douglas Corp v. Green, 411 U.S. 792 (1973); Univ. of Texas Southwestern Med. Center v. Nassar, 133 S.Ct. 2517, 2534 (2013); Hawkins v. BBVA Compass Bancshares, Inc., 613 Fed. Appx. 831 (11th Cir. 2015) ("Title VII retaliation claims require that the protected activity was a but-for cause of the alleged adverse action by the employer") (emphasis added); Teal v. City of Dahlonega, 2011 WL 7006248 (N.D. Ga. 2011); Spence v. Panasonic Copier Co., 46 F.Supp.2d 1340, 1348 (N.D. Ga. 1999); Robinson v. AFA Serv. Corp., 870 F.Supp. 1077, 1085 (N.D. Ga. 1994) ("Were the rule otherwise, then a disgruntled employee, no matter how poor his performance...could effectively inhibit a well-deserved discharge by merely filing, or threatening to file, a discrimination complaint."); Hankins v. AirTran Airways, Inc., 237 Fed. Appx. 513, 521 (11th Cir. 2007); Elrod v. Sears, Roebuck, and Co., 939 F.2d 1466 (11th Cir. 1991) ("If the employee fired an employee because it honestly believed that the employee had violated a company policy, even if it was mistaken in such belief, the discharge is not' because of race''"); Copeland v. CVS Pharmacy, Inc., 2006 WL 2699045, *1 (N.D. Ga. 2006).
